

Class Actions: Objectives, Experiences and Reforms Project
Consultation Paper

SHARE YOUR FEEDBACK

The Law Commission of Ontario (LCO) is interested in your comments on class actions.

The LCO has launched a project titled Class Actions: Objectives, Experiences and Reforms that considers Ontarians experience with class actions over the last 25 years.

The LCO is hoping to hear from individuals and organizations who may have been involved in a class action one way or another.

The LCO hopes you can tell us:

- Whether you have been a representative or class member in a class action and if so, what was your experience.
- Have you ever opted out of a class action or chosen not to participate in a class action? If so, what was the reason for your decision?
- If you participated in a class action:
  - Did you feel you understood what to expect in the litigation?
  - Do you have an opinion about how long the litigation lasted?
  - How do you feel about the financial and other outcomes in your case?
  - Was funding provided by the Class Proceedings Fund in your case? If so, what are your views of the process involving this funding?
  - How do you feel about the fees paid to class counsel?
  - How accessible and clear were the notices for class members?
  - Is there anything else you would like to tell us?

If you want more information about the LCO or the Class Action project, including a copy of our full Consultation Paper you can refer to our webpage at <https://www.lco-cdo.org/en/our-current-projects/class-actions/>.

Please note that the LCO protects the confidentiality of all information that is sent to us. Our confidentiality policy is linked here: <https://www.lco-cdo.org/en/footer/type/use-of-information-privacy-and-confidentiality-policy/>.
